

Executive presence shouldn't depend on the city.

A practical grooming workshop for teams that travel, so your people show up polished in every market.

THE PROBLEM

Your people land in a new city with a client meeting in the morning. Their barber is 1,000 miles away. They grab the nearest shop and hope for the best.

Inconsistent grooming quietly chips away at confidence and first impressions, and it is a stress most traveling employees never talk about.

WHAT YOUR TEAM GETS

- A repeatable 7-step method for finding the right barber anywhere
- Guidance for every hair type (1A–4C), so no one is left out
- Corporate vs. leisure grooming standards for travel
- Consultation scripts that get consistent results on the road
- A copy of the guide for every attendee
